A Fresh Approach to Collective Worship
Support and guidance for planning and leading Collective Worship in Canterbury and Rochester Diocesan Schools

Shout for joy to the LORD, all the earth.
Worship the LORD with gladness; come before him with joyful songs.
Know that the LORD is God. It is He, who made us, and we are his; we are his people, the sheep of his pasture.
Enter his gates with thanksgiving and his courts with praise; give thanks to him and praise his name.
Psalm 100: 1-4

Living out your vision through Collective Worship

Collective Worship in Church of England schools

Collective Worship in schools needs to be a highly valued and set apart time in the school day and week, where the whole school community can gather together in a time that is honouring and worthy to God. It needs to provide opportunities for the school community to arrive in worship with the right attitude, engage with their own spirituality and Biblical teachings and leave feeling refreshed and inspired.

The new SIAMS evaluation schedule talks about worship being the ‘heartbeat’ of the school, beating away beneath everything that goes on in school. Just as the beating of a creature’s heart is the signal that it is alive, the heartbeat of worship should signal the life, energy and Christian spirit of the school.

Worship can also be a ‘time to breathe’; a time when all can come together to find a space, silence and quietness to reflect on their own spirituality, values and place in the world. Just as breathing is vitally important to life, worship is a significant and sacred time in the life of the school; ensuring the time is valued to allow all to ‘breathe’ through worship.

Collective worship gives the whole school community the opportunity to:

- Engage in an act of community
- Express praise and thanksgiving to God
- Reflect on the character of God and on the teachings of Christ through Biblical texts
- Affirm Christian values and attitudes
- Celebrate special times in the Christian calendar
- Experience and respond to Anglican traditions and practices
- Explore the big questions of life and respond to national events
- Foster respect and deepen spiritual awareness
- Be still and reflect
- Share each other’s joys and challenges

The whole school community involves all pupils as well as all staff, unless pupils have been withdrawn by parents/carers or unless staff members have exercised their right to withdraw from acts of worship.

- Is Collective Worship a highly valued time by the whole community?
- What might worship, that is the heartbeat of your school, look like?
Setting worship in its broader context

Dictionary definition:

Worship: To have or show a strong feeling of respect and admiration for God or a god.
To honour with extravagant love and extreme submission.

The word worship comes from the old English word ‘wearbescipe’ with the root being ‘worthiness’ or ‘worth-ship’ or ‘worth – to give’ or in its simplest form, ‘worth to something’.

For Christians, worship is about coming into God’s presence and giving glory; an act of praise and adoration through which they develop their relationship with God and obedience to His word. It is through encountering God within worship that they are formed (and transformed) as God’s people – this can take place anywhere and at any time and isn’t just what happens inside a church service. It requires the right spirit and heart, which is a very personal thing.

‘True worshipers will worship the Father in the Spirit and in truth.’ John 4:22

Christian worship can take many forms; singing, prayer, silence, acts of love and service, reflection, reading/studying the Bible, meeting or eating together.

‘They devoted themselves to the apostles’ teaching and to fellowship, to the breaking of bread and to prayer. Every day they continued to meet together in the temple courts. They broke bread in their homes and ate together with glad and sincere hearts, praising God and enjoying the favour of all the people’

Acts 2: 42, 46

What is Collective Worship?

Legislation requires schools, including Voluntary Aided and Voluntary Controlled schools, to conduct daily acts of Collective Worship. However, the legislation does not define what is meant by the term ‘Collective Worship’.

“... Worship in schools will necessarily be of a different character from worship amongst a group with beliefs in common. The legislation reflects this difference in referring to ‘collective worship’ rather than ‘corporate worship’. (DfE Circular 1/94 para 57)

Corporate worship assumes a shared set of beliefs and values, i.e. a worshipping congregation meeting on a Sunday, where the worship is confessional and evangelistic (to spread the Christian gospel by public preaching or personal witness).

Collective worship, in recognising the collectivity of all participants, can make no such assumption that all have the same beliefs and values. Collective Worship should be:

“Appropriate to the family backgrounds of the pupils and their ages and aptitudes.” (DfE Circular 1/94 p.22)
The legal requirements of collective worship in Voluntary Aided and Voluntary Controlled schools.

- Be conducted in accordance with the provision of the Trust Deeds of the school and Instrument of Government and should be consistent with the beliefs and practices of the Church of England
- The Governing Body should ensure that all pupils each day engage meaningfully in a real act of Christian worship which is in accordance with the faith and practice of the Church
- Arrangements for collective worship, in foundation schools of a religious character, are the responsibility of the Governing Body, after consulting with the Headteacher (DfE Circular 1/94 para 52 & 53)
- All acts of worship in Church schools must be Christian in character (based on Biblical teachings)
- All registered pupils (apart from those whose parents exercise the right to withdraw) must on ‘each school day take part in an act of collective worship’

Collective worship or assembly?

All registered pupils attending a maintained school should take part in daily collective worship (DfE Circular 1/94 para 51)

It is helpful for the daily gathering for the act of worship to be called collective worship (rather than assembly) when referred to in school. The DfE circular 1/94 refers to this time as collective worship throughout this legal document, so it is good practice to follow suit.

Collective worship and assembly are distinct activities. Although they may take place as part of the same gathering, the difference between the two should be clear. (DfE Circular 1/94 para 58)

An assembly is a time for notices, matters of discipline or when visitors come in to give a talk or presentation (e.g. charities, an author for book week etc.) or when pupils present their curriculum work to the rest of the school. This is very different to the structure and atmosphere required for acts of worship.

Examples of how to demonstrate the transition between collective worship and assembly:

- Share notices at the beginning, not the end, so collective worship does not become muddled with matters of discipline or negative messages that might distract from the positive messages given at the end of the act of worship
- Light the candle and say the liturgical greeting for the day after any notices have been given
- Be explicit about the transition e.g. ‘we are lighting/extinguishing our worship candle because our act of worship has begun/finished’ or similar
- Ensure the person leading worship is a different person to the one leading the assembly time that day
Difference between collective worship and religious education

Collective worship and RE are two very different things and should not be confused or used as vehicles to teach each other. The time allocated for collective worship is not curriculum time but a separate entitlement for all registered pupils unless withdrawn by their parents/carers.

RE is an academic subject, where children learn about the different beliefs and faiths of believers, collective worship enables pupils to approach the threshold of worship and engage with their own spirituality and experience the Christian faith in action. There may be stories from the Bible that occur in both RE and collective worship, but the motivation of and focus for exploring the stories will be different.

Reflection or prayer areas should be separate to RE displays or working walls and ideally should not be near each other. Reflection areas should be a place where children can come and write or create a prayer or express an idea to help them to develop spiritually, think quietly about their own faith and interact with the images, objects or Biblical texts in the area. An RE working wall should document the academic learning journey that has gone on during the RE lessons.

A model of good practice for leading collective worship in a Church of England School

Inclusive  Invitational  Inspirational

Collective worship at XXXX C of E School looks like:

- There should be an act of collective worship every day, to which every child within the school must be invited to attend (whole school, Key Stage, tutor group or in the classroom)
- All teaching and ideas must be Christian and follow the teachings of the Bible, which are explored and made relevant to life today
- All acts of worship should have a Bible story or Bible passage as the focus
- The leader should try to create a welcoming and inviting atmosphere conducive to worship by, for example:
  - Playing worship or quiet reflective music on arrival
  - Or displaying an image, quote or question to engage the children in the theme
  - Setting the hall up with ‘altar table’ as a focus for worship: table cloth (which is the correct colour for the liturgical calendar), cross and candle
- There should be a welcome, for example, by lighting the candle and by saying an Anglican liturgical greeting/prayer (The Lord be with you...)
- Try to ensure that children always have a role within the worship. This could be planned or spontaneous, individually, in groups or as a whole community. Be creative and allow the children freedom and opportunities to be creative within the worship experiences.
- Children should be given a chance to discuss, in talk partners, share their ideas/answers to a posed wondering question (I wonder what respect means? What does it look like in our school?)
- Sung worship should be included to enable pupils to respond in this way.
- There should be a time for children to be still and silent to reflect and think about the key thoughts and or the Bible message
- Children should be given opportunity to pray, which might be personally (silently) or out loud as a group or on behalf of the other children or in other ways
- It is important to send the children out with a thought, verse, prayer or question to enable them to continue their thinking and spur them into action (when appropriate) following the worship session
- The end of worship provides a good opportunity to close with an Anglican liturgical sending or blessing prayer and to extinguish the candle to show that worship has ended.

This model of good practice could form part of the Collective Worship policy for your school, so that the whole school community is aware of the expectations of leading worship.

Collective Worship in the SIAMS Evaluation Schedule

Strand 6 – The impact of collective worship

In a Church school, collective worship should be inclusive, invitational and inspiring.

How is collective worship an expression of the school’s Christian vision?

In developing collective worship that is inclusive, invitational and inspiring the school community needs to evaluate the extent to which worship:

a) Offers the opportunity, without compulsion, to all pupils and adults to grow spiritually through experiences of prayer, stillness, worship and reflection.

b) Enables all pupils and adults to appreciate that Christians worship in different ways, for example using music, silence, story, prayer, reflection, the varied liturgical and other traditions of Anglican/Methodist worship, festivals and, where appropriate, the Eucharist.

c) Helps pupils and adults to appreciate the relevance of faith in today’s world, to encounter the teachings of Jesus and the Bible and to develop their understanding of the Christian belief in the trinitarian nature of God and its language.

d) Enables pupils as well as adults to engage in the planning, leading and evaluation of collective worship in ways that lead to improving practice. Leaders of worship, including clergy, have access to regular training.

e) Encourages local church community partnerships to support the school effectively in developing its provision for collective worship.

Planning collective worship

Collective worship planning should:

- Provide regular opportunity for pupils to plan and lead all or parts of the act of worship
- Allow the whole school community to experience worship that is rich and vibrant and pleasing to God
- Enable the children to begin to understand the Trinitarian nature of God as Father, Son and Holy Spirit
- Allow the whole school community to engage with Bible texts, stories and teachings daily
- Allow the whole community to encounter Christians from around the world and their similar and different worship styles
- Provide opportunities for the whole school community to relate the stories, verses or teachings from the Bible into their own lives (application)
- Allow the whole community to encounter Christians from around the world and their similar and different worship styles
- Provide a balance of activities and styles over time to allow all children and adults to engage with the worship, for example,
  - Artwork
  - Music
  - Images/icons
  - Multimedia
  - Drama
  - Story
  - Reflection time
  - Stillness
  - Silence
  - Prayer

Other considerations when planning collective worship:

- Include the school’s vision and associated Christian values and the teaching that roots them in Biblical narrative
- Ensure the plans and themes are personalised for your school and reflect your local context
- Include links to local charities and charity weeks that are occurring in your area
- When appropriate, adapt or change the planning to focus on global or national situations that should be shared, spoken and prayed about as a school community e.g. conflict or terrorist incidents, human suffering, natural disasters, situations in the school or local community or a moment of celebration, e.g. a royal wedding, football, a rescue operation.

Pupils planning and leading worship.

Don’t let anyone think less of you because you are young. Be an example to all believers in what you say, in the way you live, in your love, your faith, and your purity. 1 Timothy 4:12

The SIAMS evaluation schedule clearly states the importance of pupils being given the responsibility and ownership of planning, leading and evaluating acts of worship by naming them first in the sentence.

Enables pupils as well as adults to engage in the planning, leading and evaluation of collective worship in ways that lead to improving practice.

The schedule is not specific about what this should look like; just that pupils should be involved at all levels. How this looks in individual schools will also vary according to the context and distinctive Christian vision of the school.

The model collective worship policy expects pupils to be regularly involved in leading acts of worship:

Pupils regularly plan and lead worship on a voluntary basis. They work with the collective worship leader to develop their own understanding of worship and to design an act of worship to support the spiritual development of their peers.

Worship should not be a time where the children (or adults) in the room are passive. It should give them time to lead, fully participate and engage with what is being said, resulting in acts of worship that have an impact on the lives of all those present.

In all other curriculum areas we are encouraging pupils to be independent learners, who take responsibility for their own thinking, questions and progress; so why is this often not the case in Collective Worship?

The Canterbury Diocese Vision for Children ‘Seeing the child’ says ‘We engage in ministry with children, not to them, and recognise their innate spirituality. We understand that they can enhance our spiritual journey as much as we can enhance theirs.’ Children are ‘fellow pilgrims’ who are an integral and equal part of any act of worship. Robert Coles in The Spiritual Lives of Children, says, ‘children are active agents who walk with adults on the journey of life’.

The Church of England Vision for Education states that ‘education needs to have a core focus on relationships and commitments, participation in communities and institutions, and the qualities of character that enable people to flourish together’.

Both of these quotes support the understanding that children are not empty vessels that need filling spiritually; they are already spiritual beings who are fully able to engage with worship, often leading the adults into more profound thinking and deeper spiritual experiences.

➢ How can you ensure worship is not a passive time for pupils? – How can we encourage pupils to be independent thinkers in worship?
➢ How could you engage pupils to plan, lead and evaluate worship? – What will this look like in your school?
Reading and using the Bible in worship

God’s word is alive and working. It is sharper than a sword sharpened on both sides.
Hebrews 4:12

Your word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path.
Psalm 119:105

Every part of Scripture is God-breathed and useful one way or another—showing us truth, exposing our rebellion, correcting our mistakes, training us to live God’s way. Through the Word we are put together and shaped up for the tasks God has for us.
2 Timothy 3:16-17

So what is the Bible?

• ‘1.1 Each Church affirms... 1.1.3 the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments as containing all things necessary for salvation and as being the rule and ultimate standard of faith’ (The Anglican Communion Covenant - http://www.anglicancommunion.org/identity/doctrine/covenant.aspx)

• The Word of God, a sourcebook to help us understand God and the values common to a Christian life (www.worshipworkshop.org.uk)

• A refuge in trouble, and a treasury of insight as to who we are - magnificent creatures of a God who loves us and gives us a purpose and a destiny (https://www.biblica.com/resources/bible-faqs/what-is-the-bible/www.biblica.com/resources/bible) https://thebibleproject.com/explore/how-to-read-the-bible/
The Bible Project has produced a series of information videos about the Bible and how to read it.

• Each session of Collective Worship should include a passage of scripture, whether it is a whole story or a few verses. Please don’t feel you have to read the whole passage around the verses you want to explore. Read it just as you would a story book or information text in your classroom as best supports knowledge, understanding and exploration.

• It is important that the children know that the story or verses you are sharing come from the Bible, so tell them and share the book, chapter and verse with them. If appropriate read it straight from the Bible and display it on the screen as well so the children can follow along. However, there are many stories that are best told in the leader’s own words rather than reading it. Try and bring the stories to life, just as you would in the classroom. Most children you speak to about worship, say ‘I want to be involved more, I love it when there is drama in worship as it helps me visualise the story.’

- When discussing a Bible passage or story, ask the children what they think the passage/story might mean rather than just telling them. Allow them to think and ponder first. If they need some guidance then support them, but if you give them all the answers, they won’t think for themselves or engage personally with the text. (‘Make the children work harder than you!’ © Lazy Teacher)

- Use a version of the Bible that is suitable for the children or uses language that explains the passage in the best way for your school. www.biblegateway.com - You can use this website to locate the Bible passage you need, plus it has hundreds of different translations to choose from. NIV, New Living version, International Children’s version, Good News Bible, The Message (which is a contemporary idiomatic translation) are all suitable translations for school. This website has a feature where the text can be read out loud, which can help with some of those difficult pronunciations of names and places!

- Bob Hartman is a fantastic Christian author, who has written versions of most of the stories in the Bible which dramatically bring the stories to life.

What is liturgy?

Christian worship has always followed patterns. These patterns have been known as liturgy. This is a Greek word which means the ‘work of the people.’ We use liturgy as a name for the patterns of worship which are found in Christian Churches. In the Church of England, there are liturgies for all kind of worship from the Baptism of Children to the Ordination of Priests.* The liturgy dictates the pattern for the act of worship and provides opportunities for many people to contribute within it.

*Taken from Worship Workshop website, refer to this site for more information on liturgy and the pattern of worship.

https://www.churchofengland.org/prayer-and-worship/worship-texts-and-resources/common-worship - further examples of liturgy and prayers linked to the church calendar, which are used in Anglican worship in churches.

Common Worship is a family of volumes which, together with the Book of Common Prayer, make up the official liturgical resource of the Church of England.

Examples of liturgy

To open and begin worship:
The Lord be with you
And also with you.
Grace, mercy and peace be with you and also with you.

God is love
all the time.
All the time
God is love.

To close and end worship:
Go in peace to love and serve the Lord.
In the name of Christ.
Amen.

We go into the world to walk in God's light, to rejoice in God's love and to reflect God's glory.

Amen

Go in the peace of Christ.
Thanks be to God.

There are also many other examples in the previous set of worship materials produced by the Dioceses of Canterbury and Rochester. In addition, there are examples of some traditional prayers, including those written by Christians through the ages, in a separate document on the Dioceses’ websites.

Singing in collective worship

Sing to the LORD a new song; Sing to the LORD, all the earth. Sing to the LORD, bless His name;
Psalm 96:1

Singing is recorded hundreds of times in the Bible, where God’s people, in whatever situation they were in, sung out their praise, adoration, thanks, sorrow or lament to God. Christians believe that when you sing you bring glory to God, offering Him the praise and worship He deserves for His great love and mercy. Sing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs among yourselves, and making music to the Lord in your hearts.
And give thanks for everything to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. Ephesians 5:19-20

Christians also believe that singing is something God asks His people to do – as with liturgy, it allows Christians to recall and articulate their theology, pieces of scripture and spiritual truths. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, teaching and admonishing one another in all wisdom, singing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, with thankfulness in your hearts to God. Colossians 3:16

Both of these Bible verses point out that God doesn’t mind how you sing songs, whether they are contemporary or traditional, which instruments are used or the length/volume of singing. God is more concerned with the heart of the song and the attitude of the worshipper.

➢ Does the song bring glory to God?
➢ Does the song allow the pupils to engage in worship?
➢ Is the song reflective of the mood of the act of worship?

Choice of song
Worship in Church of England schools must be collective, as discussed earlier; therefore, the choice of song is incredibly important when planning worship that is collective not corporate. Think about the choice of words; are you asking the pupils to declare a faith, through the song words, they may not have? For example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>All through History</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Noah built the most enormous boat</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>That kept the birds and animals afloat</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Lord was good, the Lord was strong</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>And Noah lived his life for him</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Oh thank you, oh thank you</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>That all through history you were faithful</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thank you, oh thank you</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>That you are just the same when it comes to me</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>When it comes to me</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

All through history does not ask children to declare a personal faith in God. It simply says thank you for all that has happened and reminds children that God is faithful.
Songs that remind children of God’s character and love for them, of Bible verses and the teachings of Jesus are appropriate for collective worship. The songs that are sung in worship should still reflect the Christian foundation of the school.

Both of these websites offer songs that can be bought for use in collective worship in schools.

CCLI licence (Collective Worship copyright licence)

Churches and schools increasingly use technology to create, distribute or display songs, service sheets and content. Copyright owners should be fairly compensated for the copying of their works. A CCLI license allows schools to play and show Christian songs and videos that are copyrighted within school and provides the songwriters and artists with an income for their work. It is important that every Christian song or music video that is used in worship is reported on the CCLI website. Please see their website for more details.

You need a licence to reproduce the words of hymns or worship songs for use during collective worship and other events at your school. You need a licence if you:

- create your own service sheets or hymn books for pupils and staff
- create your own overhead projector acetates
- create your own song words database for use with song projection software
- type song words into your computer and store them for future use
- record music from your services (e.g. carol services) on video or audio https://www.gov.uk/collective-worship-copyright-licence

My Jesus, My Saviour, Lord there is no one like you, All of my days, I want to praise The wonders of Your mighty love. My comfort, my shelter, Tower of refuge and strength Let every breath, all that I am Never cease to worship You. I sing for joy at the work of your hands, Forever I'll love you, forever I'll stand Nothing compares to the promise I have in You.

My Jesus, My Saviour is a wonderful corporate worship song; but is it appropriate for children of no or different faiths to be singing these words? These lyrics ask whoever is singing to declare a faith and believe in God.

Prayer in collective worship

Listen to my voice in the morning, LORD. Each morning I bring my requests to you and wait expectantly”
Psalm 5:3

“I am praying to you because I know you will answer, O God. Bend down and listen as I pray”
Psalm 17:6.

Christians believe that prayer is a communication process that allows them to talk directly to God, whilst spending time listening to what God has to say to them. It is a two-way process of talking to their best friend.

The disciples asked Jesus how to pray and he taught them the Lord’s Prayer, which covers everything asked of Christians when they pray. It is made up of 7 prayers, 3 addressing God and 4 related to our concerns and needs. It also sets a model for prayer.

Our Father – reminds Christians that God is a personal God, who is theirs. Praise the name of God for He is good. Hallowed means; greatly revered and honoured.

Four personal requests:
1. Provide for us all we need
2. Forgive us all we have done wrong
3. Help us to know what is right and wrong and to stay on the path you place before us
4. Protect us from harm

Asking God for His ways and will to be lived out on earth, so that all may live their life as God intended. God wants us to pray for others as everyone is part of God’s Kingdom.

A closing ‘hymn’ of praise to God. May you continue to be great. May you rule the Kingdom and have the glory and the power for ever and ever.

Amen – So be it
May all that I have prayed happen.
A model of prayer following the Lord’s Prayer.

- Praise God for He is good.
  For the LORD is the great God, the great King above all gods. Psalm 95:3

- Thank God for all He has done for them.
  I will give thanks to you, LORD, with all my heart; I will tell of all your wonderful deeds. Psalm 9:1

- Ask for protection, help, guidance, support, healing or blessing for others.
  Don’t fret or worry. Instead of worrying, pray. Let petitions and praises shape your worries into prayers, letting God know your concerns. Philippians 4:6-7

- Ask for protection, help, guidance, support, healing or blessing for themselves
  The LORD is my light and my salvation; I will fear no one. The LORD protects me from all danger; I will never be afraid. Psalm 27:1

- Say sorry for when they have disobeyed Him or hurt someone.
  But I confess my sins; I am deeply sorry for what I have done. Psalm 38:18

- Praise and thank God
  Give thanks to the Lord, for He is good. His love endures for ever. Psalm 136:1

- Amen
  *Then all the people said, "Amen," and praised the LORD.1 Chronicles 16:36
  Amen uttered at the end of a prayer or hymn, means ‘so be it’. Explain to the children that when they join in with the Amen, it actually means ‘I agree’ or ‘so be it.’*

Example prayer structures
It is good to give children a scaffold or model to use when learning to pray, just as you would when teaching a new genre of writing. Both of these structures are easy to remember and will help children to frame the words they want to use when invited to pray.

Dear God,
Thank you so much for all you have done for me. Thank you for helping me with my homework that I found difficult.
I am sorry when I was unkind to my sister, help me to be kinder to her tomorrow. Please will you look after my Grandma because she is poorly, thank you.
Amen.

Both these books offer some example prayers which can be used and then adapted by the whole school community.
The Big Bible Prayer Book by Scripture Union has some lovely examples of prayers you could use in worship.

The Lion Book of 1000 prayers for children

_Rationale:_

_Praise the LORD!_ Praise God in his sanctuary; praise him in his mighty heavens! Praise him for his mighty deeds; praise him according to his excellent greatness!

_Praise him with trumpet sound; praise him with lute and harp! Praise him with tambourine and dance; praise him with strings and pipe! Praise him with sounding cymbals; praise him with loud clashing cymbals!_ ... Psalm 150:1-6

Many schools use one of their weekly acts of worship to show how much the school community values the achievements of its members. Here are some suggestions to help you to develop the sense of worship and celebration for such occasions within the four-part framework recommended by the Diocese. This should be an opportunity to reflect the belief that our gifts and talents are God-given and precious in the sight of God. As such, we must nurture and use our gifts in the service of others. Make sure that this is done in the context of worship rather than as an ‘assembly’ if this is to be your act of worship on a particular day of the week.

Guidance on planning Singing or Praise Worship

Rationale:

Come, let us sing for joy to the LORD; let us shout aloud to the Rock of our salvation. Let us come before him with thanksgiving and extol him with music and song. Psalm 95:1-2

Throughout the Bible there are many stories and records of God’s people singing and praising Him. Singing forms a large part of Christian worship, so it is important that it features regularly in Collective Worship in Church of England schools.

There are many wonderful traditional and contemporary Christian hymns and songs to sing in schools, but does the school community actually understand what they are singing? Singing worship is a great opportunity to explore the words, stories and theology behind the words and should follow the same 4-part pattern as all other acts of worship, and have worship as its focus. *See examples of song explanations http://www.worshipworkshop.org.uk/songs-and-hymns/

Rend Collective.
When the Israelites were wandering in the desert, God guided them by a pillar of fire at night to direct their paths and lead them to where they were going safely.

Exodus 13:21 By day the LORD went ahead of them in a pillar of cloud to guide them on their way and by night in a pillar of fire to give them light, so that they could travel by day or night.

These words remind Christians that God will still lead his people, just as he did in the Old Testament. There might not be an actual pillar of fire as there was then, but I wonder how Christians know that God is leading them?

Why else might it say, ‘You’re the brightest?’

Chisholm
Pray together -this could spoken or sung. The words and song below could be used as a singing prayer.

Father, I place into your hands
The things I cannot do,
Father, I place into your hands
The things that I've been through.
Father, I place into your hands
The way that I should go,
For I know I always can trust you.

Rationale:

"Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly as you teach and admonish one another with all wisdom, and as you sing psalms, hymns and spiritual songs with gratitude in your hearts to God." Colossians 3:16

I am turning now to the Book of Psalms because I desire that you and I may learn to be worshippers, men and women who, like David, seek after God and yearn to know the heart of God. (https://bible.org/seriespage/1-significance-psalms)

The psalms are Hebrew poems collected as the book of Psalms in the Bible, varying greatly in mood and tone across the psalm. The 150 Psalms express feelings in hymns of joy, pleadings, sorrows, penitence, petition and thanksgiving. Exploring and discussing three or four verses is ideal, pulling out the wisdom and considering the importance of the verses for Christians today.

An example of how Psalm worship could be structured:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Gather</th>
<th>Engage</th>
<th>Respond</th>
<th>Send</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Lord, direct our thoughts, and teach us to pray. Lift up our hearts to worship you in spirit and in truth, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen</td>
<td>Explore a selection of verses from a Psalm. What does the word psalm mean? When I consider your heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars, which you have set in place, what is mankind that you are mindful of them, human beings that you care for them? Psalm 8:3-4</td>
<td>Show the children an image of the night sky and allow them time to just look at it and consider the ‘work of your fingers’</td>
<td>I wonder - do you care for all that God has made? What might you do or say this week to remember that God cares for you?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Read and listen to this psalm. Why do you think the psalmist write this – what was feeling was he feeling? How do they feel about God? How does it make you feel? How does God feel about those he has created?</td>
<td>If God put such care and attention into the moon and stars, how much more did he put into the humans he created in his image? What does ‘you are mindful of and care for them’ mean?</td>
<td>Pray</td>
<td>We go into the world to walk in God's light, to rejoice in God's love and to reflect God's glory. Amen</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

There are some great images you could display to support the understanding of this psalm.
Questions to consider when looking at Psalms:

- Who wrote the Psalms?
- How were the Psalms used by God’s people in the Old Testament?
- Are they still relevant now? What do they teach Christian’s today?

Guidance on structuring Worship in the Classroom

Rationale:

For where two or three gather in my name, there am I with them.” Matthew 18:20

Worship in the classroom is a great way to spend quality time with your class, in a different way to teaching them, without thinking about targets, success criteria, outcomes etc. It allows the children to enter worship in a more intimate way, where many children feel more comfortable to interact and join in. It is also a fantastic opportunity for the children to lead some or most of the worship as they often feel safer in front of a small audience. You know your class the best, so when planning worship in the classroom, ensure it is suitable and relevant for the age and needs of the children. It still needs to follow the same 4 elements and include a Bible text or story, prayer and reflection time and a song. Using a clear signal to open and close the worship will allow the children to move from a teaching session into worship.

One example of how worship in the classroom could be structured:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Gather</th>
<th>Engage</th>
<th>Respond</th>
<th>Send</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Light the candle</td>
<td>I wonder how it makes you feel that you can give anything you are worried about to God and he will care for you.&lt;br&gt;&lt;br&gt;Give the children a small piece of paper- ask them to write anything that is worrying or bothering them. When they are ready and if they would like to, get them to bring it to the front and put by the cross as a symbol that they are giving the things they are worried about to God. (Have some quiet worship music playing whilst they do this.) Invite all the children to say the Bible verse together.</td>
<td>So, when you are feeling worried this week, what could you do?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with you and also with you. (The ‘Grace’, from St Paul’s second letter to the Corinthians is a very widely used text. While most often used as a closing prayer it is also makes a good greeting, especially for worship in small groups.)</td>
<td></td>

Additional examples of practical activities for worship in the classroom

1. Game - Praying for our world:

   Using an inflatable globe, get the children to pass/roll it round the classroom whilst music is playing (you could use ‘Build your kingdom Here by Rend Collective). When the music stops, whoever is holding the ball has to look where their hands are and then we all pray for the country under their left hand. Talk about what that country might need prayer for, then say together...

   Lord, we pray for .......... Bless the leaders to be wise. Look after all the people there. Thank you for that country and we pray for all who live there.

   You could also pray for anything specific for that country, e.g.: war, famine, disasters etc.

   Keep it moving quickly, let the children have fun!

2. Using song ‘He holds our world in his hands’

   Get the children to think about a country they had just prayed for. Watch the video and listen to the song (approx. first 2 mins) The song says that we need not be afraid because God holds the world in his hands. Think about this quietly and say a quiet Amen together, knowing that God had heard the prayers of our heart.

3. Praying for the news:

   Give the children various newspaper articles and pictures about recent news and create a collage in groups of things that are happening in our world that need prayer. Play worship music in the background, which helps to create a reflective atmosphere.

   This activity will help the children to think and talk about our world and problems other people face. Allow them to respond to these situations; write prayers, poems or thoughts on the collage to demonstrate how these situations make them feel.

4. Praying for our local area.

   Get some maps of your local area and get the children to think about their neighbourhood. Plot people on the map, those who need prayer/support. Ask them to think about other people. Look at doctors, hospitals, other schools, and friends etc. on the map, who may need prayer.

   Spend some time quietly thinking for these people. Invite children to write prayers on post-it notes and stick them on the relevant part of the map.

Collective worship in Early Years

Rationale:

Jesus said, “Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of heaven belongs to such as these.” Matthew 19:14

You have taught children and babies to sing praises to you. Psalm 8:2

Guidance, with some examples, on structuring worship for children in EYFS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Gather</th>
<th>Engage</th>
<th>Respond</th>
<th>Send</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Make a set of picture cards from which the pupils can choose how they mark their gathering which might include:
‘Light a candle’
‘Play some music’
‘Sing a worship song’
‘Put up a special worship picture.’ | Choose appropriate story material.
A story from a Children’s Bible.
A story with a Christian message.
Ensure you apply the Christian message to the pupils’ own lives and experiences.
Engage children using their senses. | Provide some time for prayer and reflection.
You could:
• Use a book of simple prayers for younger children
• Roll a prayer cube
• Recite a simple prayer after you
• Encourage the children to look at a visual focus (object or picture) to help them think about how they could respond to what they have heard today
• Think about situations or people the children are aware of to pray for
• Create a prayer wall of their prayers
• Create an interactive prayer station for the children to engage with | Sending cards might include.
‘Give someone a hug’
‘Smile at someone’
‘Help someone today’
‘Play with someone you don’t normally play with.’
‘Try something new today.’
‘Say something nice about someone.’ |
